Elmwood Community Church is a large, multi-generational, fully functioning community church, which offers a variety of ministries to the suburban community of Fort Worth as well as to the surrounding area. Currently, we have over 1,000 people who attend services regularly, with weekly attendance averages over 800. Our church is known as a fun, welcoming place for people of all ages.

Fully functioning is a somewhat unusual word to use when describing a church.

Some people might say that a church is a place where people come together and worship God. Others might say that a church is a place where people come together to share meals and grow in their faith through friendship. We believe the former definition is the wrong one. A church is not simply a place where people come together to worship God. In fact, our understanding of a church is that it is a place where people come together to know and love God. As such, our church is a multipurpose facility where people of all ages can gather to help each other grow in their relationship with God. So, with this understanding of a church, we believe that a fully functioning community church is one where the Kingdom of God permeates the life of the church, making it a place where everyone feels welcomed, respected, and valued. We believe that the Kingdom of God exists where his love is manifested in the power of his Spirit. As such, the life of the church is not simply about service. In fact, our understanding of a church is that it is a place where people come together to become more like Jesus. Thus, the life of the church is not simply about a collection of individuals who gather at church to worship God. On the contrary, the life of the church is a community that grows in its love for one another, so that it becomes a family – a family where everyone feels welcome, respected, and valued. As an example, let's look at the life of a community church, through the eyes of a congregation. The larger community is made up of people who live within the boundaries of a city. This can be any city, 3da54e8ca3
