Directed by Mark Osborne, John Stevenson. With Jack Black, Ian McShane, Angelina Jolie, Dustin Hoffman. The Dragon Warrior has to clash against the savage .Neuronal localization and cellular distribution of the kappa opioid receptor in the rat brain. Antisense oligonucleotides, designed to selectively inhibit mRNA synthesis of the kappa opioid receptor (KOR) gene, were microinjected into the nucleus accumbens, and immunocytochemistry for antiserum to the KOR was carried out. At 48 h after microinjection, there was a significant reduction of KOR immunoreactivity in neurons of the shell and core of the nucleus accumbens. The number of cells that express KOR in the nucleus accumbens and other brain regions was quantified using fluorescence in situ hybridization with a 35S-labelled antisense riboprobe for the KOR mRNA. An increase in the number of cells containing KOR mRNA was observed in the thalamus and the hippocampal formation after 48 h; at 168 h, this number had returned to control levels. At both time points the KOR mRNA-positive cells in the thalamus, but not those in the hippocampus, showed a reduction in the signal. The results suggest that the KOR gene has a developmentally regulated spatio-temporal expression pattern in the brain. The Retired Spouse Equity Protection Act (RSOPA) was enacted in 1992 to address this problem. RSOPA permits a former spouse to collect a portion of the retirement benefits received by the non-employee spouse, as calculated under an IRS guideline. RSOPA is codified in the Federal Tax Code at 26 U.S.C. §411. The RSOPA formula is set forth in 26 U.S.C. §4110(a). 26 U.S.C. §4110(a) requires that the non-employee spouse's portion of the retirement benefits be based on the ratio that the non-employee spouse's total monthly benefits, at retirement, bear to the spousal benefits eligible to the former spouse. The RSOPA benefit can be received, however, only if the plan satisfies the requirements of 26 U.S.C. §404(a c6a93da74d
